The God Who May Be Richard Kearney, 2001-10-03 Kearney is one of the most exciting thinkers in the English speaking world of continental philosophy and he joins hands with its fundamental project asking the question what or who comes after the God of metaphysics John D Caputo Engaging some of the most urgent issues in the philosophy of religion today in this lively book Richard Kearney proposes that instead of thinking of God as actual God might best be thought of as the possibility of the impossible By pulling away from biblical perceptions of God and breaking with dominant theological traditions Kearney draws on the work of Ricoeur Levinas Derrida Heidegger and others to provide a surprising and original answer to who or what God might be For Kearney the intersecting dimensions of impossibility propel religious experience and faith in new directions notably toward views of God that are unforeseeable unprogrammable and uncertain Important themes such as the phenomenology of the persona the meaning of the unity of God God and desire notions of existence and difference and faith in philosophy are taken up in this penetrating and original work Richard Kearney is Professor of Philosophy at Boston College and University College Dublin He is author of many books on modern philosophy and culture including Dialogues with Contemporary Continental Thinkers The Wake of Imagination and The Poetics of Modernity

The Museum of Other People Adam Kuper, 2024-04-16 A MOST ANTICIPATED BOOK From one of the world's most distinguished anthropologists an important and timely work of cultural history that looks at the origins and much debated future of anthropology museums A provocative look at questions of ethnography ownership and restitution the argument Kuper makes in The Museum of Other People is important precisely because just about no one else is making it He asks the questions that others are too shy to pose Required reading Financial Times UK In this deeply researched immersive history Adam Kuper tells the story of how foreign and prehistoric peoples and cultures were represented in Western museums of anthropology Originally created as colonial enterprises their halls were populated by displays of plundered art artifacts dioramas bones and relics Kuper reveals the politics and struggles of trying to build these museums in Germany France and England in the mid 19th century and the dramatic encounters between the very colorful and eccentric collectors curators political figures and high members of the church who founded them He also details the creation of contemporary museums and exhibitions including the Smithsonian the Harvard's Peabody Museum of American Archaeology and Ethnology and the famous 1893 World's Columbian Exposition in Chicago which was inspired by the Paris World Fair of 1889 Despite the widespread popularity and cultural importance of these institutions there also lies a murky legacy of imperialism colonialism and scientific racism in their creation Kuper tackles difficult questions of repatriation and justice and how best to ensure that the future of these museums is an ethical appreciative one that promotes learning and cultural exchange A stunning unique accessible work based on a lifetime of research The Museum of Other People reckons with the painfully fraught history of museums of natural history and how curators anthropologists and museumgoers alike can move forward alongside these time honored institutions
